Accept, Lord, the homage of my lips and teach me your decrees. Though I carry my life in my hands,

Moses and E-li-jah * were speaking to him of the death he would en-dure in Je-ru - salem.

Canticle, Philippians 2:6-11*Christ, God's holy servant*

A†

Though he was in the form of God, Jesus did not deem equality with God something to be grasped at.

B†

Rather, he emptied himself and took the form of a slave, being born in the likeness of men.

A

He was known to be of human es - tate and it was thus that he humbled him - self, obediently accepting e - ven death, death on a cross!

A

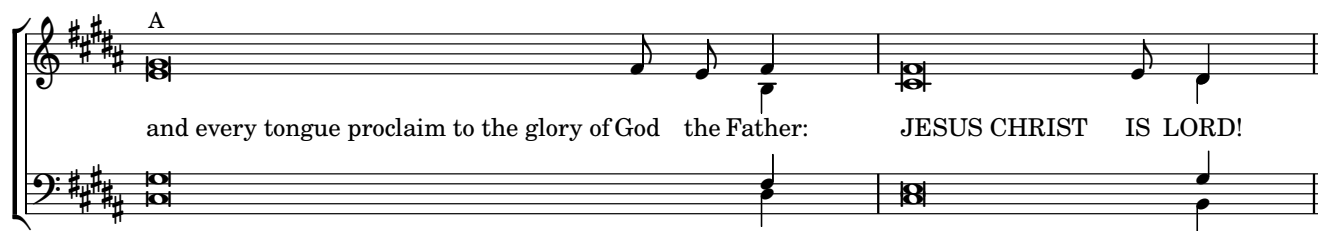

Because of this, God highly exal - ted him and bestowed on him the name above every other name,

B

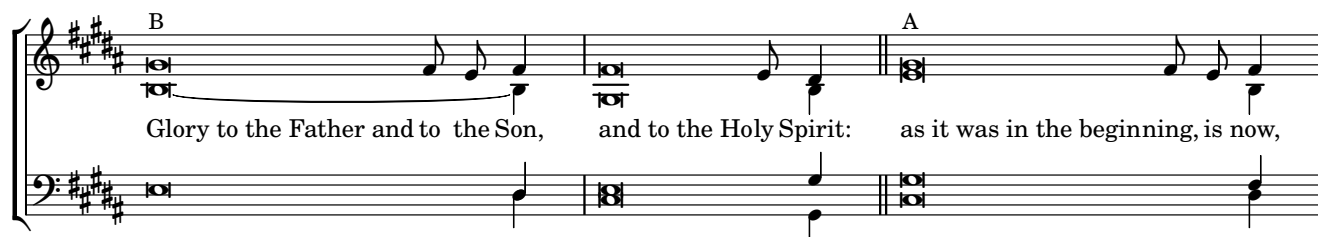

So that at Jesus' name every knee must bend in the heavens, on the earth, and under the earth, and every tongue proclaim to the glory of God the Father: JESUS CHRIST IS LORD!

A

B A

Glory to the Father and to the Son, and to the Holy Spirit: as it was in the beginning, is now,

and will be for ever. Amen.

A voice spoke from the cloud: * This is my be-lo - ved Son in whom I am well pleased;

li-sten to him.

Magnificat

My soul proclaims the greatness of the Lord, my spirit rejoices in God my Savior; for he has looked with favor on his lowly servant. From this day all generations will call me blessed:

the Almighty has done great things for me, and holy is his Name. He has mercy on those who fear him in every generation. He has shown the strength of his arm, he has scattered the proud in their conceit.

He has cast down the mighty from their thrones, and has lifted up the lowly.

He has filled the hungry with good things, and the rich he has sent away empty.

A

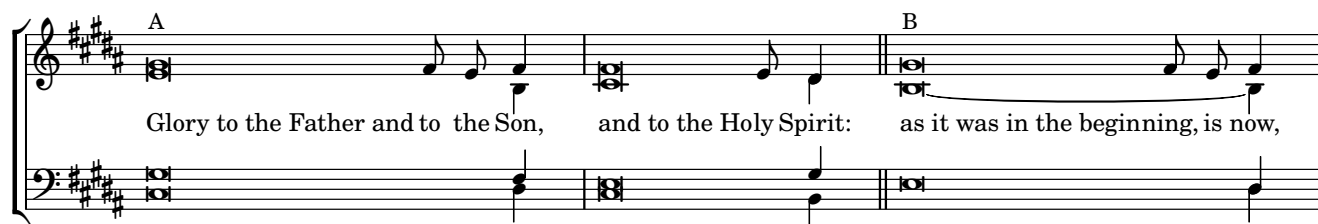

He has come to the help of his ser-vant Israel, for he has remembered his promise of mercy,

B

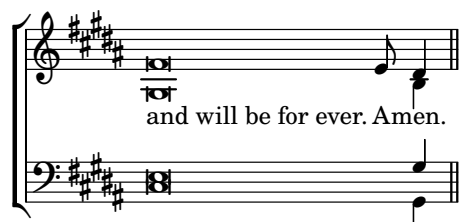

The promise he made to our fathers, to Abraham and his children for ever.

A B

Glory to the Father and to the Son, and to the Holy Spirit: as it was in the beginning, is now,

and will be for ever. Amen.
